grangia constant

When the Company first opened business uptown in Broadway, he said, "The World" printed some articles stating that the business was not legitimate. A day or two after Capt. Schmittberger came in and made an investigation. "I explained it to him, and he seemed to be satisfied. At least he did not tell us to close it."
"Why did you close your aptown office?" asked Mr. Moss.
"Because we did not get customers enough uptown."
"Didn't Capt. Schmittberger ask you "Didn't Capt. Schmittberger ask you r any money?"

"Didn't Capt. Schmittberger ask you for any money?"
"No, sir."
"Did you pay money to him or any other police afficial?"
"No, sir."
"No, sir."
"Has any police investigation been made of your business in New street."
"No: not that I know of."
"Fender said that Vaientine and he had been in the same business in St. Louis. San Francisco and Butte City, Montana, At all those places he admitted they had had trouble with the authorities and had given up their business.

San Francisco and Butte City, Montana.
At all those places he aimitted they had had trouble with the authorities and had given up their business.

The next witness was William Craig, who said he had been playing at Valentine and Fender's game in New street, and had come out a loser. The last time he played he said he lost several hundred dollars.

"It is well recognized by those who patronize it as a gambling game, the same as fare or roulette, and is so treated in Chicago by the police authorities, where it formerly flourished actively.

actively.

The chances against the player winning at this game, he continued, were about 3 to 1, which had been figured out by experts in Chicago.

"Why do you call it a skin game?" asked Mr. Goff. A Freeze-Out All Through.

"Hecause the stocks do not represent actual properties, and the quotations are made up previously by the dealers of the game. It's a sort of freeze-out arrangement. You are bound to lose, whether you buy or sell."

The quotations in some of the Chicago fake ticker shops were arranged by desling a pack of cards, the witness said, but he did not know how Mr. Valentine made up his tape.

dealing a pack of cards, the witness said, but he did not know how Mr. Valentine made up his tape.

"After I lost 225." he said, "I made a complaint to Acting Capt. Hogan, of the Old slip station, and he told me to get a warrant. I went to the Tombs and saw a Police Justice about it. He refused to give me a warrant, however, on the ground that he could not issue it without corroborative evidence.

"And the matter stopped here?"
"Yes. I never got a warrant."

Mr. Goff then read from Supt. Byrner's latest report on gambling houses, in which is said that no gambling was now going in the city except behind botted and barred doors.

Valentine was recalled, and said he was still conducting his business. He declared that he regarded it as perfectly legitimate, and that he was not fishing for guils.

The next witners was Dietrick Gron-holz, who keeps a lodging-house at 38 Sheriff street.

Night before last, he testified, a roundsman and another police officer had come to his house very late and wanted to know how many voters he had in his house. wanted to know how many voters he had in his house.

"I told them about thirty and they wanted to come in. I let them in, but as soon as the roundsman got inside the door he struck me with his club and then yanked me outside on the sidewalk.

"I was knocked down, shoved against a wagon and hustled about, and finally they took me to the police station, where I was locked up on a charge of assaulting an officer.

"Alderman Clancy and some other friends of mine came around to try and ball me out, but the sergeant refused to accept ball because I had assaulted an officer."

"That was, indeed, a deadly crime."

officer."
"That was, indeed, a deadly crime,"
said Mr. Goff.
"I had not assaulted any one, however, and the next day in court I told my story and was discharged."
Mr. Gronholz testified at first that he had no steady ladgers, and that they changed from night to night. He afterwards took this back, and said that some of them were permanent, and that these were the only ones who registered from his house.

When asked to give the names of some of the thirty lodgers who were

When were you expelled from the A. R?" asked Mr. Goff of Joseph W.

"When were you expelled from the G. A. R?" asked Mr. Goff of Joseph W. Kay, the next witness called. "Never," he replied, emphatically. "You are not wearing your button?" "No, not at present." "Did you not have trouble with your post recently?" "No, sir." "And have paid your dues regularly?" "No, sir." "Were you not charged with being a professional gambler?" "The subject was brought up, but no charge was made," admitted the witness.

harge was made," admitted the witless.
"Are you not a policy backer?"
"No wir. I am not."
"A dealer?"
"No, sir."
"Were you not at one time?"
"Not since eight "ears ago. I was in the policy business then."
"Haven't you neen in business with ake Shigmey recently?"
"No, sir. I only know him as a

He declared that he had had nothing to do with policy or gambling for years, and that he was engaged in legitimate business. He could not desert his old comrades simply because they indulged in gambling, but he was not associated with any of them in that business.

He had a printing business in Leonard street, was the publisher of a family paper, and had a water-meter business in Brooklyn, and he was not afraid to have his name placed beside that of any other honorable business man in New York City.

Mr. Goff said he was gratified to thive him say so. That for his own satisfaction and the protection of the honor of the Committee he had made every effort to run down the rumor which he had heard, but that Mr. Kay was the only man who had been found among those whose names had been given to him.

Franz Wolf, a lodging-house keeper, of Hê Park Row, testified that he only kept temporary lodgers in his house. He fore adjourning for recess Chairman Lexow directed him and all the other lodging house keepers summoned to attend again in the afterneon and to bring with them the books in which the names of their origers were registered.

After recess the first witness called was a colored man named Frank Prince, who had been brought down from Biack-well's Island, where he had been sent for six months in August last.

He was last employed as an engineer in an apartment - house at Eighty-fifth street, and said he had paid Ward Man Gannon 100 a month for protection. His house was railed and he was arrested and taken before Capt, Schmittberger, who asked him to tell about the other disorderly houses in the vicinity.

How is This, Schmittberger?

How In This, Schmittbergerf "I refused and he told the officer to dis completely

CAPT, MAX. CALLED.

Schmittberger Summoned Before the Grand Jury To-Day.

Those Charges of Bribery Were Pr. sumably Considered.

Ex-Police Capt. Doberty Is Also on the Anxious Seat.

Grand Jury has determined to obey and is now actively engaged in hearing

Men Hoch and Mechan have also been considered by the Grand Jury. ASSAULTED AN OFFICER.

Policeman O'Connell Roughly Handled in a Lodging-House.

William Butler and Thomas Green longshoremen, who live in Driscoll's lodging-house, at 183 South street, quarrelled last night, and as a result Green lies in Itellevue Hospital. Butler's head is covered with cuts, and Policeman O'Connell, of the Oak street station, has a severe scalp wound.

Driscoll summoned the policeman to arrest Green and Butler. He found Butler on the street, bleeding from many cuts. Telling him to stay where he was, he started upstairs for Green. He had gone but a few steps up the stairway, when Butler jumped on him from behind and dragged him backward downstairs. O'Connell struck his head on the floor, causing a scalp wound. odging-house, at 183 South street, quar-

A POLICEMAN'S COOLNESS.

Again he approached the big tenement, ful medicine.

on his stemes after to day leaded an order directing tien, safter Four sealer Perdinand P Earle to the an additional of Blood's barrage laint of Blood to one or the naturent of was all time down and the Hotel Normalis and the Hotel Ho

A PLUCKY WOMAN.

And What She Was Able to Accomplish.

She and Her Daughter Have a Remarkable Experience.

She Was a Hard-Working Person and This Will Interest All Workers.

All kinds of diseases and weaknesses leave

"About fifteen gears ago I was taken ver Attorneys Buttle and McManus.

As was foretoid in "The Evening back After sevel months i get over that, but have sever te n well since. I have suffered World" examisively. Wednesday, the terribly with pairs in the check back, kidneys (Grand Luce beach, kidneys)

If you have any of these complaints or for any Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and you will be made well and strong. It posi-tively cures all such complaints.

All physicians recommend it. Aroused Without a Panic.

The coolness of Policeman McCarthy prevented a panic and possibly a loss of West 14th St., New York City. He has the he early to-day. His beat includes a portion of Rivington street, and while rassing the large tenement-house that textends from No. 69 to 75 he fancied he smelled smoke.

Careful investigation failed to verify his suspicious, and he continued on his lonely patro.

Again he approached the big tenement.

J. Lichtenstein & Sons

Boys' Clothing Dep't

Saturday

braid and wool lined, sizes 4 to 15

Usual price $6.00.

Also

300 all wool double-breasted Norfolk and reefer suits in fancy cheviots. tweeds and cassimeres, sizes 4 to 15

23d St. West.

Men's Furnishing Department.

Fine white Linen Hemstitched Handkerchiefs,

25 cts, each,

Initialed Hemstitched Handkerchiefs. 25 cts. each,

Heavy French Lisle, 1/2 Hose, C. G. Make, 35 cts. per pair.

were 5oc.

3 pairs for $1.00.

Usual price $5.00 & $6.00. Lord & Taylor,
Broadway & 20th St.

FINE CLOTHING,

Our reputation for fine ready-to-wear Clothing has brought us many customers who have formerly worn custom-made cloth-

Men's Suits, $12,8154818 Boys' Suits, $4, $5 and $7

Exchange Closed.

by "The Evening World."

Lexow Committee Forced the Police

Boys' Fine Calfakin Shee

MRS. SALLADE ANGRY. BUCKET SHOP RAIDED.

"Manny" Friend's Close Question- The Fake New Haven Mining ing Too Much for Her.

She Charges Him with the Theft of Its Pian of Operation First Expessed an Umbrella.

And Declares She Never Bleached

the renewal of the license of Jacob of Chicago, Supt. Byrnes issued a

$2.95 CHILDREN'S, 1.48 & $1.23 4 button White Kid Gloves,

219-221 SIXTH AVE., BETWEEN 14TH AND 15TH STS.

GRANGERS USED AS A LEVER. Lord & Taylor.
Broadway & 20th 84 Bulls Boomed Those Stocks to Drop in Manhattan Followed by General Rise.

Repulse a Bear Raid.

Speculation at the Stock Exchange was not influenced in the least this by the announcement that Ladenburg, Thaiman & Co. had ordered $500,000 for export to Europe by Satur-day's steamers. The bellef that the efflux of the vellor metal will not be large in any event made operators look upon to-morrow's shipment with equanimity. The bears again tried their hand at General Elec tric, about which many unfavorable rumors are circulating. The stock, while by no means firm

HAMMERSTEIN FINED.

HEAVER IN THE LAW IN THE ART IN EXCHANGE IN THE LAW IN TH

APY OPER CENT. M.

Application of the state of the state

J. D. WALTON & CO., 8TH AVE. & 513T ST. ALL-WOOL DRESS GOODS.

Full 45 inches wide, plain and figured. Regular price 98c. Will sell on

FRIDAY and SATURDAY

per yard.

BRAIN FOOD. MUSCLE FOOD. For Breakfast C. THE OA

MEN'S, $2.95 Ladies' BOYS', $2.45 Gloves.

4 button Dogskin Gloves, Tans, Browns, English Reds, Pearls and white, QO cts.

65 cts.

CREDIT

Many of the Personal Belongings of the Great French General Now Owned in America .-- See The Sune day World.

COOKED.

CEREALS MEG. CO., 83 Murray st., N. Y. All Greece. were 50c KORK SOLE SHOES.